

“I consider that the proposed feed-in tariff arrangements are price gouging as I would only receive 6.6 cents/kWh for the electricity that my retailer buys from me yet I have to pay 32 cents/kWh for electricity I buy from my retailer. For persons on low incomes, such as myself, this is particularly unfair.”